

NOAH'S SCREEN 12

In order to familiarize yourself with your new tent, we recommend you "test pitch" before your first camping trip. For additional information please visit www.kelty.com.

Package Includes: Backpack carry bag, tarp, two long poles, two short poles, 2 short guy line cords, 2 long guy line cords and tent stakes.

1

Lay out fly upside down and locate green webbing strap that connects opposite corners as shown above. Strap may be inside mesh pocket shown above. Connect the side release buckles together. This strap will help dictate proper shape during set up.

2

On an even piece of ground lay out fly as shown, mesh down. Locate and prepare two long guy lines. Find the center of the line and tie an overhand knot to create a small loop in the guy line, repeat for the other long line. Assemble all poles and set them aside, ensure that all segments are fully seated.

3

Locate the green seam along the top of the fly. Follow seam to one of the corners, insert tip of long pole into steel ring at corner, then use the loop in the guy line from step 2 to connect guy line to the top of the pole. With help from a friend, temporarily stake out the lines and the mesh corners near the pole. Solo Set up is possible, but camping is better with friends!

Tips: Dual guy lines work best at 45-degree angles pulling out and away from the pole.

Follow the green seam to the opposite corner and repeat this process on the other side using the other long pole and long guy line.

Using the short steel poles and guy lines, repeat this process on the other two corners.

Tip: At this point you may need to re-position the stake locations and re-tension the guy lines as needed to achieve optimal tension.

5

The webbing strap shown in step 1 should now be removed and stored in the mesh pocket.

Please note: proper pitching technique takes practice. Kelty recommends test pitching this structure several times before your first use in the wild. If you have any questions please contact Kelty customer service and we would be happy to assist you.

Happy trails & thank you for your business!
